GEN. STEADMAN was suddenly converted to "My Policy." Less than a year ago he arrived in Washington from Northwestern Georgia, where he was then serving, an ultra radical, advocating the absolute necessity of conferring the right of suffrage on the negroes of the entire South. It would be impossible to state more strongly than he was then wont to do the wisdom and justice of this great measure, or to exhibit more conclusively the error and danger of reorganizing the political communities of that section upon any other basis than that they should be exclusively controlled by loyal men, white or black, as Andrew Johnson once expressed it.

A TRAVELER, writing to the Chicago Journal, says:

"At Pittsburgh a splendid improvement has just been made in the shape of a new depot, built by the Fort Wayne and Pennsylvania Central Railroad Companies, for the use of those roads. Not, however, for their benefit exclusively, but also for the convenience of the traveling public. For connected with, and forming part of this mammoth depot are a first-class hotel and a restaurant, where passengers can always find such refreshments as may seem needful during either a brief or a protracted sojourn in the smoky city."

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in this improvement, has set an example which is deserving of imitation at all important railway centres.

IN Wisconsin, a man who had served in the rebel army got elected Justice of the Peace. His predecessor refused to hand over the books to him, and hence an opinion on the case was drawn from the Attorney General. He said:

"Having served as a volunteer in the late rebel army, you have forfeited all political rights under the United States Government, and that Government can alone restore them. Having placed yourself in the attitude of an alien enemy to the United States Government, you cannot exercise the rights and privileges now accorded to aliens who are not enemies. Not having the right to vote, you cannot hold office."

THE President has met with poorer success in Pennsylvania than in any other State. He has not had a single vote in the House save what he got from the Democrats, and thus far has not received the open support of a single known Republican paper. He is of course much annoyed at the barren prospect. The fact is, it is very hard to make a party out of patronage alone, and the engineers of the President in Pennsylvania find it so every hour they live.

IT IS stated that Attorney-General SPEED has no confidence in the legal correctness of the indictment against JEFFERSON DAVIS. In the preparation of this instrument the Administration was bound to employ the best professional ability. It seems not to comport with "My Policy" to have the work done effectually. Better pardon the great criminal at once, rather than have a mockery of a trial.

IN the Presbyterian General Assemblies at St. Louis, the main opposition to reunion comes from aged members who have carried their griefs along the journey of life with the young. A notable exception is found in Dr. BRECKINRIDGE. The younger members of both branches strongly incline to come together. "It is a consummation most devoutly to be wished."

A WASHINGTON correspondent says that there is, at the Capitol, a growing distrust of Secretary McCulloch. He is regarded as one of the bitterest enemies of the loyal majority in Congress in the Cabinet. Besides, there are many strange rumors afloat as to financial matters, while the general conviction is, that the work is rather more than the Secretary can stagger under.

IN Washington it is reported and generally accredited, that contributions have been made by wealthy rebels of Baltimore, Washington and other Southern cities, of large sums of money for the purpose of corrupting members of Northern Legislatures into voting against their principles for U. S. Senators who will support the President's policy.

A FEW DAYS ago we stated our opinion that SIR MORTON PETO came to this country in order to get up such an excitement over American railway securities as would help him out of financial difficulties; and that he had not succeeded. We gave some of our reasons for that opinion. The failure of SIR MORTON is now announced.

ALTHOUGH hundreds of thousands of documents have been circulated among the people to induce them to support "my policy," daily intelligence from the States, North and South, confirms the prediction that the only success that would crown such efforts would be the successful expenditure of a great deal of money.

THE Washington correspondent of the Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat, under date of Washington, May 13th, writes as follows:

"Leading Democrats assert that the President has determined not to nominate Lieut. Gen. Grant to the position of General unless that soldier shall give in his adhesion to the policy of the White House."

NINE millions of dollars in gold were sent out of this country last week, mainly to pay wages to European manufacturers. In the ordinary condition of monetary affairs, so vast a shipment of specie would have gone a good ways towards producing a financial crash.

THE Oregonian, published at Portland, Oregon, sensibly says:

"We confess to thinking that the party which carried the Government safely through the late terrific struggle, is good enough for us, and that we have no desire to go searching after strange Gods."

THE impression gains ground that the Senate will strike out the third section of the House plan of Reconstruction, and adopt the residue. Practically, it will be found impossible in most southern districts to keep rebels from voting.

AFTER Secretary SEWARD's return the President is to be serenaded and make a speech. The members of the Cabinet are to be musiced in turn, and are expected to respond by endorsing the President's ideas.

MORGAN, STUART and LANE (Kansas) will vote for the Constitutional Amendment with the third section out. That will fulfill the prediction we made of its passage in that shape.

THE President's supporters in Virginia are writing letters to the jurors who indicted Jefferson Davis, threatening them with lynch-law unless they leave the State.

THERE are assurances that Gen. Ferry will to-day be elected U. S. Senator from Connecticut.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Read the following letter from E. Bourne, a well known citizen of Pittsburgh, Pa.:

PITTSBURGH, May 10th, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen: During a visit in the west last fall, I contracted chills and fever which brought me to my bed and finally terminated in typhoid fever, and confined me to my room for several months, during which time I was physically so prostrated that, although naturally of very recovering my health; having entirely lost my appetite for days, not being able to eat a morsel, added to which I was much distressed with a feeling sensation in my throat, which caused many sleepless nights—all from debility caused by my prostrate condition, brought about by the fever. During this stage of my condition a friend recommended your celebrated Stomach Bitters, but being morally opposed to the use of stimulants in any form, I at first declined, but afterwards, from much persuasion, and, after taking the medicine for several weeks, as directed, my appetite returned and with it I am rapidly regaining my former strength and vigor. My sleep, (from the loss of which I had suffered much,) has never been better than it is now, and the reeling sensation (before alluded to,) has entirely left me. My bowels, which were much constipated and irregular, are now quite natural, and in fact I am glad to say that I feel myself a new man, and therefore feel it my duty to make my appreciation of your valuable preparation in order that others suffering as I have may avail themselves of its virtues, which prejudice prevented me from enjoying for the long period. I may also add that my physician, after seeing the beneficial effect your Bitters had on me, recommended that I use them regularly. Yours, very respectfully,

E. BOURNE,

FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

Details of the Bombardment of Callao —The Spanish Fleet in no Condition to Renew the Attack.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Some details of the fight at Callao are published. The Peruvians had nine batteries, mounted with thirty-two-pounder guns, 300-pounder Armstrongs and 450-pounder Blakely rifles, besides the iron-clads Leo and Virginia, and three Warden gunboats. In less than half an hour the Villa de Madrid had her motive power deranged, and was towed out of the action. The Berenguli moved out twenty minutes later, having received heavy rifled shot near the water line, leaking badly, and was obliged to cut and run to prevent sinking. At half past two the Blanca and Resolucion retired to repair injuries, but soon returned to their former position, and with the rest of the fleet, except the two first named, continued to fight to the end of the action. Soon after the commencement of the battle, a Peruvian battery, containing two thirty-pounder Armstrongs, was blown up, dismantling the guns and killing and wounding every one in the vicinity. In half an hour a 300-pounder Armstrong was dismantled at the first fire. With this exception the fire of the Peruvian batteries was heavy and well directed, and every moment became more fatal and destructive. Soon after five o'clock the Spaniards retired, the batteries firing till they were out of range. The last gun was fired by the Monitor Victoria. The Peruvians are said to have lost sixty killed and one hundred and seventy wounded. The shot disabling the steamship of Villa de Madrid killed eighteen and wounded seventy-one, and it was thought therefore, that the total loss of the Spanish exceeded that of the Peruvians. That vessel had eight shot holes in her sides. The Blanca was struck forty times, and others nearly as many. The Mendamcia, being iron clad, came off very well, but one eight-inch rifle projectile pierced her five and a half inch iron plating and went partly through the wooden backing. She was towed out of the action to receive the fire at an angle, hence her plating caused the shot to glance. The officers of the Vanderbilt think the Spanish are in no condition to renew the attack. They had only slight shot, so there was but little injured.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Nomination for Internal Revenue Collector Rejected—Appointment of Marshal Rejected—Collection of Claims from Norfolk—More Fractional Currency—Pardoning of Rebels.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—W. Prescott Smith's nomination as collector of Internal Revenue for the Third District of Maryland, in the place of Mr. Finley, was rejected by the Senate yesterday.

The President has nominated John Lyon, fatuer of General Lyon, as Marshal for the Southern District of Illinois.

The reason for removing the United States courts from Norfolk to Richmond is because there is no fit place in Norfolk to hold them.

Preparations are making to issue three hundred thousand dollars of fractional currency this week, to take the place of a similar amount mutilated and to be cancelled.

Commodore Leon smith, late of the rebel navy, was pardoned on recommendation of Senators Stewart, Nye, McDougall, Howard, Chandler and others. Also, Henry A. Bragg, an officer in the rebel army, on recommendation of Senator Henderson and Hon. J. J. Blow.

West Point Appointments—Serenade to the President and Cabinet Arranged —Merchants' National Bank Investigation.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The specials to the evening papers say that the President has appointed to West Point Jacob Bell, Jr., of New York, O. L. Keis, and Thomas Townsend, of the District of Columbia, and Douglas Grant, son of Lieutenant General Grant.

The serenade to the President and Cabinet is arranged for to-morrow night.

The House Committee on Banking examined the President of the Merchants' National Bank this morning, when he admitted that he had Government bonds in his possession, which he regarded as private property, and that he had offered to adjust the difficulty by paying forty per cent. of the money deposited with the bank.

Freedmen Commissioners—Malfeasance of the Officers of the Bureau.

AUGUSTA, GA., May 22.—Generals Steedman and Fullerton had an interview at Savannah on Saturday, with representatives from the African Methodist Conference, who declared in favor of the continuance of the Freedmen's Bureau, and three others testified to malfeasance of officers of the Bureau.

Generals Steedman and Fullerton have gone to Florida.

Another Fenian Expedition.

EAST PORT, Me., May 22.—Two boats, loaded it is supposed, with Fenians, effected a landing on Indian Island last night and several rounds of shot were exchanged. The British war steamer Niger steamed from Campo Bello to the scene of action, when the Fenians retreated. No further particulars as yet.

Fire at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, May 22d.—The fire on Sixth street, this morning, destroyed Dezenhart's harness factory, Cook & Purcell's extensive stock stables and several other buildings. Loss about $15,000.

Government Wood Burned.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., May 22.—About seven thousand cords of Government wood were burned last night. The fire was extinguished this morning.

THE BANKRUPT BILL.

Synopsis of its Provisions.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The bankrupt bill provides that the District and Circuit Court have jurisdiction, that any person owing debts over three hundred dollars, filing a petition of inability to pay, and willingness to surrender his estate, shall be adjudged a bankrupt, and a warrant issued for the sheriff to possess until an assignee is appointed. The duties of assignees are defined. It provides for examination before Court of the distributions of the estate, creditors to share prorata without preference each wages to clerks and operators under $50 a month.

The order in the dividend is, first, the costs of the Court; second, debts to the United States and State assessments; third, wages, fifty debts having priority by law. It provides also for the discharge from all debts after compliance, and provides a punishment for fraud. Seven days confirment of judgment and fourteen for commercial paper shall be an act of bankruptcy. The act takes effect for officers after the promulgation. No petition to be filed before the first of November next.

EQUALIZATION OF BOUNTIES.

A Bill and Written Report Presented.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Mr. Wilson, from the Committee on Military Affairs, and the Militia to which was referred Senate bill, No. 207, to provide for the equalization of bounties to the soldiers in the late war of the rebellion, presented a bill and a written report. The report says it has ever been the policy of the government of the United States to keep a small standing army in time of peace, and to rely upon the patriotism of the citizens to fill the ranks of the military forces in time of war. The experience of three quarters of a century has amply vindicated the wisdom of this policy. Every citizen of the United States liable to do military duty, is justly held to owe the Government in time of public danger, in return for the protection given him, his time and if need be his life. While the citizen owes military service to his country the country in return is sacredly bound to recognize and justly reward the military services rendered by the citizen.

SPEECH OF SECRETARY SEWARD.

AUBURN, May 22.—Mr. Seward addressed a large meeting of the fellow-citizens as follows:

My Good Friends—Since we last met, the national condition has undergone some material change. We were then on the verge of a series of elections throughout the States. The leaders, who unjustly and treasonably claim to be democratic, organized with their westernmost machinery and evasions. They had wisely ceased to denounce as a failure the war for the Union, which had now become a glorious success. They thought to undermine the distinctive party of the Union by effecting a new-born admiration for the late rebel, Jefferson Davis. They seemed anxious to prove their devotion superior to ours by committing themselves to support him as a candidate for the presidency in six. They inscribed our administration mottos of reconciliation upon their newly wrought banners, and reorganizing their straggling lines as well as they so hastily could, they vehemently charged our party as a partizan not a patriotic victory. What led the Democratic leaders to make this change, was the striking, I may call it the unanimous, phenomenon which was just then exhibited on the scene of the recent rebellion. The whole disloyal community in that blighted and desolated region, regarding the conqueror's pardon, amnesty and the invitations to returning allegiance, which were proclaimed by the administration as not only abandoning its principles practiced and the policy of secession and disunion, tendered us a new covenant of loyalty, seated with their oaths and brought forward Washington, the renown of their long cherished institution of slavery, and cheerfully threw them to be burned upon the constitutional altar which they had so newly restored.

These unexpected changes in the attitude of political adversaries once so obstinate, naturally enough excited suspicions, misgivings and apprehensions among loyal and tried Union men. It was the old case of William of Orange, who, having in civil war put down the forces, afterwards found it necessary to concede to repenting Jacobins and Papists the right of citizenship. It is the case which has ever occurred, and which must forever more occur, at the end of a successful resistance to rebellion.

"How could Democrats and rebels be converted to the support of an unpopular Union Administration?" This was the question everywhere put by the zealous leaders of the Union party. It was at that moment that I answered the question myself

FOR GOVERNOR:

MAJ. GEN. JOHN W. GEARY,

OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU.

This instrumentality from its nature and service, is temporary No man of ordinary reflection and discernment ever professed or imagined it would or ought to become permanent. It had its origin in an anomalous condition of affairs, which the founders of the government did not foresee, and for which the Constitution made no provisions. Essentially elemosynary in its character, it was at the same time an exercise and an amelioration of the war power. It was an use of military authority for a beneficent end, which would have excited astonishment in any earlier age, and became practicable now only because of the completer development of civilization and the more perfect infusion of Christianity, as a working force, into the life of the nation.

At no period has it been exclusively or chiefly concerned in the betterment of the colored people. So far otherwise, it has doubtless extended material relief to a larger number of white folks than of black ones.

Nor is it claimed for it that its methods have always been the wisest. It was created not upon mature reflection, but to meet a necessity so pressing as not to admit of delay. Some things had to be done at once. Such methods had to be adopted as the exigencies suggested and allowed. Nor yet is it claimed that all the officers and agents of the Bureau have all been fitly chosen. In no department of the military service has there been such felicity of choice that honest and capable men have uniformly fallen into the places they were best fitted to fill. Indeed, it makes patriotic cheeks flush even now to think what losses, sacrifices and disasters were incurred through sheer incapacity or untrust-worthiness on the part of some military men occupying the highest ranks; and in these respects a good many civilians, whom chance has thrown into positions nature and training never intended them for, have nothing to boast of. Not a few men before whose names courtesy writes honorable, because the tricks of politicians have translated them from spheres of vulgar industry to posts of influence and power, have as many sins, both of omission and commission, to answer for as they can well attend to.

Some rascals, employed in the Freedman's Bureau, have recently been overhauled by Generals STEADMAN and FULLERTON. Every depredator hunted down in any sphere of public employment, is a gain. Just now we should esteem it highly beneficial to have the President put some lynx eyed detectives upon the track of those satellites who are buying up members of Legislatures to vote for United States Senators in violation of the principles on which they were chosen, and against the clearly expressed wills of their constituents. Common stealing bleaches into a comparatively christian grace when brought into contrast with that form of scoundrelism.

In saying this, we do not intend to endorse that vigorous prosecution of officers of the Bureau in which the Administration is reported to be concerned just now. We refer, of course, to the recent order to arrest all officers of the Bureau who are engaged in the working of lands. This proceeding is sufficiently energetic, if the purpose is simply to degrade the Bureau; to "make it odious," rather than treason. Moreover, while military law is so potent in the South that persons may be arrested without any evidence or suspicion of wrong doing, the inquiry is pertinent how and why it happens that it is in other respects so weak that JEFFERSON DAVIS cannot be subjected to its treatment?

And here we may as well remark that the promoters of the Freedmen's Bureau do not entertain the idea that any class, either of blacks or whites, in the Southern States, are to be long kept under guardianship. The blacks must necessarily take the ordinary chances in the battle of life. In the long run, if they cannot sustain themselves, and carve out an honorable destiny, they must go under. In this particular they are subject to the same physical and social laws which bind all other classes of human beings. Nor have those who, from humanitarian or other considerations, take special interest in their case, occasion for unusual solicitude. There are indications that the blacks will take care of themselves fully as well as the lower orders of the white population of the Southern States will manage to provide for their own security and advancement. Slavery depressed both, but in the rebound it is not improbable that the blacks who are popularly supposed to have sunk the lowest, will mount most rapidly.

EUROPE.

The nations on the other side of the Atlantic are now perturbed from various causes.

On the continent the question of peace or war creates the most intense unrest. Italy, Austria, Prussia, the lesser Germanic Powers, Spain, France, are all disquieted. There seems to be a general mustering of belligerent elements that may discharge themselves harmlessly into the air, or shake the whole continent as with the throes of an earthquake—which, who can foretell?

Great Britain has been deeply agitated for months past by portents of insurrection in Ireland, and by fierce discussions touching a resettling of the basis of representation in Parliament. Latterly, a sharp financial stringency has been added to the other discomforts. According to the telegraphic advices published yesterday this stringency has culminated in a regular panic. The rate of interest, which is an accurate measure of the pressure, has been raised to a most extraordinary point by the Bank of England, and the Ministry have felt constrained to counsel the most extreme measures, on the part of that institution, in order that relief may be extended to the business community. A good many failures have occurred, among them that of PETO & BETTS, who were largely interested in American enterprises.

Under ordinary circumstances so formidable a financial revulsion in Great Britain could scarcely fail to produce a corresponding depression in this country. But, fortunately, business here does not, just now, rest on the accustomed basis. One of the necessities and compensations of the war was the abridgement of mercantile credits. Never before were the business men of the United States, as a body, on so stable a foundation. They have not been selling goods on time; but for cash. They have made large profits, far beyond former example. If they are owing abroad for goods, they either have the funds with which to make payment, or have the commodities still in their warehouses. Outside the commercial classes there has been a steady and healthful clearing off of indebtedness. The aggregate of liabilities was never so small before. The Banks, as a whole, are under close reef. While banking institutions have been greatly multiplied, in consequence of the introduction of the national system, there has not been a ratable increase in discounts. The banks have not only most of their capital invested in national bonds, but have consolidated the major part of the avails of their circulating notes in the same securities. Speculators in stocks may, in some instances, be in bad condition, but their collapse, like that of other gamblers, excites no commiseration, except to the degree in which they may involve other and different parties.

"The Friends of President Johnson."

EDITORS GAZETTE:—I read a report of the proceedings of a meeting held at the Sharpsburg bridge, on Saturday evening. The notice calling the meeting informed us that "the friends of President Johnson" would assemble in that usually quiet suburb, on that occasion.

I was curious to know the object of a meeting called so mysteriously, and in such a quiet suburban place, and awaited the report. I observed that John H. Sawyer, Esq., whom I last heard addressing a Copperhead meeting in our sister city, was the first speaker. He "confined himself," your reporter stated, "to a defence of the recently appointed Federal officers." It seemed strange that "the recently appointed Federal officers" required the defence of a Copperhead stump orator, in the midst of their fellow-citizens, but strange things are taking place now-a-days.

Ex-Governor Johnston, (who wasn't made Collector over the river, but who, with a commendable family prudence, has procured the nomination of his son-in-law,) followed "our John," and held his little audience for some time, after which a series of resolutions were unanimously adopted, favoring "our policy"—as Natty would say.

Your reporter failed to inform us in regard to the particular point of veracity raised by "a soldier." What was it? I would also like to inquire as to the members in attendance at this meeting, and who they were. It makes little difference to Washington; the telegraph or mail would doubtless carry information in regard to the large outpouring of the people in Allegheny county to sustain the President's policy; addresses by John H. Sawyer, Esq., and Ex-Governor Johnston." But here at home, we want to know the political complexion of the people who attend these meetings of office-seekers and disorganizers. Can you inform an

INQUIRER?

The meeting alluded to was made up of Republicans who were anxious to hear "My Policy" discussed. The great majority were in favor of Congress. Cheers proposed for JOHNSON were feebly given, while the meeting enthusiastically gave their voices in three rousing cheers, proposed by a Radical, for Congress. The point raised by the soldier was upon the army record of a recently appointed Government official. The soldier was right and the speaker wrong.

A Vienna Tragedy—A Whole Family Poisoned in a Young Lady—The Seducer Shot by the Father.

A letter from Vienna contains the following intelligence concerning a deed of almost unparalleled horror, lately committed in the Austrian capital:

"Francis Tuvora, well known here as the originator of pleasure excursions to various cities, lately organized a party to Jerusalem. A fixed sum was paid Tuvora by each traveler, which was to cover all expenses there and back. Having got the party to Jerusalem, Tuvora found himself, in consequence of the unfortunate result of some speculations on 'Change, unable to pay their expenses back here, and to meet other obligations. Not appearing as usual in the morning, his residence, after some delay, was broken open and a ghastly sight presented itself. Tuvora, his wife, his daughter, aged 19, and two younger sons, were found lying and sitting at and about the table, where they had taken supper the previous evening, all stone dead. He had administered them poison in the beer. A note was found signed by one of the boys, but the body of it was in Tuvora's handwriting, stating that, unable to endure their father's disgrace, they had voluntarily put an end to their lives. Tuvora also attempted to poison his two youngest children, aged respectively seven and eight; but they refused to drink the beer and were saved. The general impression is that the family have been foully murdered, and did not consent to die with him. Thousands of persons followed the family to their graves. A further deplorable effect of this tragedy occurred yesterday in the suicide, by shooting, of a young cadet of the infantry regiment, Baron Rossbach. He was engaged to Tuvora's daughter, and since her death has been suffering under great depression of spirits. In a farewell letter to his comrades he states that he cannot live without his Lonisa, to whom he has pledged his faith, and goes to join his spirit with hers."

Tragedy in Jasper County, Indiana—Seduction of a Young Lady—The Seducer Shot by the Father.

The telegraph operator at Francesville sends us the particulars of another Newland-Evans tragedy, which transpired in Jasper county, near Rensselaer, on Wednesday. Addison Parkinson, a wealthy farmer and stock grazer of that county, highly esteemed in all the relations of life, discovered that his daughter, an interesting girl of fifteen years of age, had been seduced. She confessed her guilt, and divulged the name of Newton Guthridge as the author of her ruin. Guthridge was a tenant farmer on the lands of Mr. Parkinson, a young man of about twenty-five years of age, rather good-looking, and had hitherto borne an unblemished reputation. He had been about the homestead more or less for a year past, and was engaged this spring in putting in a crop on shares. Immediately upon learning of his daughter's ruin, Mr. Parkinson armed himself with a revolver, and proceeded in hot haste in search of Guthridge. It was about seven o'clock in the evening, and the young man was in the barn putting up his team. Mr. Parkinson called him to the door and shot him down. Three balls took effect, killing him instantly. After committing the bloody deed he announced himself prepared to abide the law and made no effort to escape. The affair has created intense excitement in the neighborhood, where the parties are well known.—Lafayette Courier, May 18.

A Lucky Steamboat Engineer.

The Cairo Democrat tells the following:

Some years ago, H. W. Taylor, a steamboat engineer, wooed and won a French lady, at that time a resident of Kentucky. Making their home at Smithland, in that State, they lived happily, enjoying the bread which was earned by the sweat of the husband's brow. Pursuing his business of steamboat engineer, Mr. Taylor, during the two years immediately preceding the war, worked upon the Cheney, then running between this city and Columbus. When the trumpet-blast of war startled the nation from its dream of peace, Mr. Taylor entered the service of the Government, and continued in it until the noise of battle was hushed and quiet had returned to the distracted land. He had no hope that fortune would smile upon him, and was astonished when, in one of her mad pranks, she made his wife one of her favorites and lavished upon her favors which she never expected to receive. Only a few days since, the mail brought Mrs. Taylor the news of the death of an uncle in France and apprised her of the pleasant fact that she had been made his heir, and was consequently the owner of a fortune of $30,000 in gold, and real estate of great value.

Mr. Taylor left Cairo for his home at Smithland, where he will join his family, and immediately proceed to France.

—A farmer in Staffordshire, England, lost some cows lately from the rinderpest, and got an idea that he was suffering from the disease himself. His medical adviser, who was a wit, agreed with him and sent him to the apothecary with a sealed prescription. Both patient and druggist were rather astonished at reading: "This man has got the cattle plague; take him into the back yard and shoot him according to the act of Parliament."

—Senator McDougal says Brumidi's picture in the dome of the capitol—the Apotheosis of Washington—represents the Father of his Country surrounded by pretty waiter girls.

—A man jumped out of a three-story window in Wheeling, Va., a few days ago. He was so limber that he did not break. Had he been sober he would have been killed.

—The ex-rebel General J. B. Gordon was in Atlanta, Georgia, a few days since. He is now engaged in the lumber business in Brunswick, and is doing a remunerative business.

—A French Canadian, who was running away from his wife, was so smitten by conscience on a Chicago railroad train, that he tried to beat his brains out with a monkey wrench.

—The expenses of the Irish Republic appear to have already eaten up the receipts, and a fresh appeal is made to the supporters of that government to subscribe to the Fenian bonds.

—Two counties in California are expected to produce five years hence a wine crop double the entire yield of the United States in 1860, which the last census puts at 1,700,000 gallons.

—The cholera makes no progress here, but on the Continent it is awakening from its torpor, and the same class of German emigrants who brought it to us are endangering England.

—Admiral Wilkes, of the Trent seizure, has bought a large landed property, in the heart of North Carolina, including extensive iron work, and is engaged in getting ready to develop it.

—Henry C. Bloss, Esq., of the Titusville Herald, was admitted to the bar of Crawford county a few days ago. He should be ashamed of himself for thus disgracing the profession of the quill.

—A constitutional amendment changing the time of the State election from spring to fall, was brought before the Connecticut Legislature last year, and is to be finally acted upon at this session.

—The raid of the Fenians on New Brunswick was more disastrous to the hotel keepers of Eastport than to the subjects of perfidious Albion. They went off leaving over $1,000 in hotel bills unpaid.

—The St. Paul, Minnesota, papers state that the rush of emigrants to Montano this year is equal if not in excess of old California times. The Cloud and the Paul are even thus early crowned with emigrants.

—The celebrated Colt will case has finally reached a conclusion in the Connecticut Supreme Court, and Judge J. B. Colt, brother of Col. Sam. Colt, received $86,000 as his share of the estate, notwithstanding the fact that a codicil in the will cut off the bequest to him.

—Eighty-nine worthless curs were killed last week in Philadelphia by the dog-catchers. In the whole bunch there was not a quadruped of the apparent value of a shilling, for any moral qualities he might possess. The dog catchers are doing a good business just now.

—The soldiers of Maine held a convention at Bangor, in that State, recently, and adopted resolutions declaring their solicitude upon national affairs, favoring the equalization of bounties, and condemning the practice of passing by the soldier and giving office to persons of doubtful patriotism.

—A new city slaughter-house has been erected at Bridgeport, near Chicago, intended for the entire slaughter work of the latter city. It is two hundred and seventy feet long, one hundred and seventy-five feet wide, and three stories high. It has a daily capacity for working off twelve hundred head of cattle, two thousand hogs, and one thousand sheep.

—The Governor of Idaho has concluded a treaty with the Oughee Shoshones. One hundred and fifty chiefs, headmen, and women made the council, representing eight hundred or a thousand Indians, which was held in the heart of the Indian country. By this treaty he says the Oughee war has been extinguished and all the lands rich in minerals, known as the Oughee mines, are ceded to the United States.

—At the recent Convention of Presidents and Superintendents of railroad and steam boat lines between Baltimore and New Orleans, held at Richmond, it was resolved that through tickets be agreed to from New Orleans, Mobile, Montgomery, Atlanta and Augusta to Richmond, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, on the basis of prices charged for similar tickets via Western and Tennessee routes. A system of through checks from New York to New Orleans, and intermediate points, was devised.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF
VALUABLE PRIVATE LIBRARY AT AUCTION.

On MONDAY, TUESDAY, WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, May 28th, 29th, 30th, and 31st, at Masonic Hall Auction Rooms, 55 and 57 Fifth st., will be sold, by order of Executor, the valuable LIBRARIES of Col. EDWARD SIMPSON and DR. R. R. REDDICK.

These Libraries comprise rare and curious volumes, many of which are now out of print. The Miscellaneous Library includes a collection of many works of interest to both the student and the general reader, comprising Historical Collections; Biography; Science; and Art, and General Literature; partial files of Old Newspapers, in a good state of preservation. These are in the original—English, French, Greek and Latin. In this connection may be mentioned Voltaire's Works, complete in 71 volumes, and Rousseau's Works, in 30 volumes. In the Medical catalogue will be found the recognized standard works of the profession.

Persons unable to be present at the sale can leave their orders at the Auction Rooms, or if residing at a distance, can have their orders attended to by making known their wishes through the mails.

Catalogues can be obtained by application at the Counting Room, Masonic Hall Auction House, or will be sent by mail to any address furnished us.

Each evening's Catalogue will be open for examination on the day of sale.

CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

Attempted Bribery of an Official and the Result—The Commissioner of U. S. Commissioner Burgess, of Titusville, Revoked.

On Saturday last Hon. Wilson McCandless, of the United States Court, was made aware, through a statement of R. B. Carnahan, Esq., U. S. District Attorney, of an attempt at bribery by B. S. Burgess, United States Commissioner at Titusville, Venango county. The statement, verified under oath before Stephen McCandless, Esq., U. S. Commissioner, is sufficiently explicit, without further introduction. Here it is:

"To the Hon. Wilson McCandless, Judge of the United States District Court—Sir—On yesterday, before the case of Edward Beaton was called up for trial, I was approached by B. S. Burgess, U. S. Commissioner, who desired a conversation with me in regard to the case. He informed me that if I would allow the defendant to be acquitted there would be one hundred dollars for me, and that he was authorized to make me the offer, but had no interest in the matter himself. I look upon this on the part of a United States officer I deem so improper, if not criminal in intention, that I have considered it my duty to call the attention of your Honor to the subject. Yours, respectfully, "R. B. CARNAHAN,

"United States Attorney."

Judge McCandless forthwith issued the following order:

"And now, May 19th, 1866. Statement of United States District Attorney filed, and the Court order a copy of the same to be served upon Mr. Burgess, and a rule, returnable on Monday next, be entered and served upon him, to show cause why he should not be removed from his said office of United States Commissioner and his commission revoked."

This paper was placed in the hands of U. S. Marshal Murdock, and returned by that officer on Monday, bearing this endorsement:

"May 19. Served personally and by copy on B. S. Burgess, and by reading the original to him."

Mr. Burgess failed to appear, and the matter was postponed for one day. Not being present on Tuesday morning—having left for Titusville—the Court ordered as follows:

"And now, May 22d, 1866, the Marshal having returned the rule in this case 'served personally on the respondent,' and he having been duly called in open Court, and having failed to appear and answer, either in person or by Attorney, the commission of the said B. S. Burgess, appointing him United States Commissioner, is hereby revoked by the Court, and he is dismissed from office. And it is further decreed that a copy of this order be served upon him by the Marshal, and he is ordered to pay the cost of these proceedings."

The man Beaton, it will be recollected, was indicted with Silas Wiggins for having in his possession, with a design to pass, counterfeit postal currency. He was tried last week, but the jury failed to agree, and were discharged, so that the case is still pending.

We imagine that Mr. Burgess has placed himself in a very ugly position, and we cannot see how he can defend himself against the charge of attempting to bribe the District Attorney. Opportunity to do so was afforded him, but he failed to embrace it, and the verdict of the public cannot be otherwise than against him. Mr. Carnahan did his duty in exposing the matter, and in so doing gave what was not needed proof that he is worthy the entire confidence of this community, and that the trust reposed in him, in the position he occupies, is not unworthily bestowed.

Mayor's Court.

Alderman Morrow continues to officiate during the indisposition of Mayor McCarthy from rheumatism. Yesterday Capt. Lewis ushered into his presence, at the usual hour for holding court, thirteen individuals, who had been arrested for drunkenness. Of this number eight were committed to jail for twenty-four hours, the remainder paying the usual fine of "two-ninety."

James Mellon and John Leonard were arraigned for a more serious offence, evidence being adduced that they were members in good standing of the "Modern Order of Wife Beaters," and also that they extended brutal abuse, in their drunken moods, to their entire household. Alderman Morrow, mindful as he is for his kindness of heart, could not entertain any sympathy for the accused, and accordingly inflicted the extreme penalty of the law in summarily committing them twenty-five dollars, and in default committing them to jail for thirty days.

Three persons, S. Stout, S. B. Reed and M. Sheridan—arrested by special policemen Ember and Thornburg—were fined two dollars each for committing nuisance in the yard of the Custom House.

Deserved Promotion.

Among the appointments recently confirmed by the Senate was that of Mr. Charles D. Lyon, (late Sergeant in the Signal Corps,) as Second Lieutenant in the Sixth Infantry, U. S. A. Lieutenant Lyon is a native of Allegheny city, and in 1861 enlisted with Captain Duff in the 102d regiment. After participating in several of the sanguinary battles of the Army of the Potomac, he was transferred to the Signal Corps, and acted as chief clerk in the office of the Signal Officer at Washington City, a position for which he was eminently fitted, and in which he served with such zeal and ability as to secure high commendation and promotion to the rank of Sergeant in the Corps. After serving out his term of enlistment he was appointed to a clerkship in the office of the Quartermaster General, where he remained until his recent confirmation as Second Lieutenant in the regular army. We record his honorable advancement with unfeigned pleasure.

A First Class Drug Store.

One of the greatest improvements on St. Clair street is the elegant new drug store of Dr. James Brown. It is fitted out in the most admirable style, and all its arrangements are perfectly complete. Mr Brown has a fresh stock of pure drugs, medicines, perfumeries, toilet soaps, and every article of goods usually found in similar first-class establishments. The stock of fancy goods is not surpassed by that of any other dealer in the city, while a choice selection of the best patent medicines now in use in this country is kept constantly on hand. Dr. Brown is a gentleman and accomodating gentleman, and is eminently worthy the patronage of the public. He gives his personal supervision to the filling of physicians' prescriptions, and persons entrusting this important duty to him may rest assured that it will be properly attended to. The store is No. 88 St. Clair street, a few doors from the suspension bridge.

Enjoying His Liberty.

Officer Andrew Moon, of the Mayor's police, on yesterday, about noon, arrested an individual who had been acting disorderly in a lager beer saloon near the corner of First and Smithfield streets, and lodged him in the tombs. He gave his name as David Aughinbaugh, and stated that he had just been discharged from the Penitentiary, where he had spent eighteen months for committing a larceny in Huntingdon county. He said also that there was another charge against him, but he did not think it would be pressed. Upon his discharge from the Penitentiary he received ten dollars, which enabled him to put himself outside of several drinks by way of enjoying his liberty. Hence his disorderly conduct.

Inquest Held.—Alderman Donaldson, in the absence of Coroner Clawson, at Dixmont, yesterday forenoon held an inquest on the body of the man found floating in the Ohio river, near Cork's Run, on Wednesday, and a verdict of death by drowning was rendered. The name of the man was not ascertained at the inquest, but the body was supposed to be that of the man Jones who fell off a barge which he was attempting to land at Horner & Co.'s coal landing, on the south side of the Monongahela. He was about thirty-five years of age, had rather dark hair and red whiskers; had on a grayish colored vest, dark cassimet pants, striped shirt, flannel undershirt, and boots. He had no coat an.

I. O. O. F.—The contest for District Deputy Grand Master of the order of Odd Fellows, in the Allegheny District, resulted in favor of P. G. Mark Rush, of this city. The election was held last month, and the contest was quite animated, there being three or four candidates in the field. It was thought that there was a tie vote between two of the candidates, but when the ballots came to be examined by the Grand Lodge, it was found necessary to throw out the votes of several Lodges, owing to their not having been properly reported. The Grand Secretary reported the condition of the Order throughout the State very flattering.

Not Yet Disposed Of.—A police officer: anxious, perhaps, to secure his "costs," inquired of us why Lingo, Stewart and McCall alias Michaels, convicted at the last term of the Criminal Court of having burglariously entered the jewelry establishment of Johnston & Scott, in the Fifth ward, and not taking therefrom goods to a considerable amount, were not sentenced! A motion for a new trial (and there was "nothing in it," said the officer,) is pending, and when that is refused the Court will pronounce judgment upon the verdict. Keep cool, police officer, and patiently suffer the law's delay.

Never Tires.—Street Commissioner Hunter is waging an "irrepressible" raid upon those of our citizens who violate city ordinances in addition to the parties mentioned elsewhere for likewise offending, he was instrumental in having McCord & Co. and L. Muller fined by Acting Mayor Morrow four dollars and costs for sweeping dirt on Wood street, and our street Commissioners have been by no means so active in the discharge of their duties, and Mr. Hunter deserves and will receive the thanks of all good citizens for his energy and close attention.

Homeopathy.—The new and elegant Homeopathic Hospital, on Second street, will be formally dedicated on 6th proximo. Invitations have been given to the medical fraternity of that school throughout the county, and it is anticipated that a large number of the most distinguished physicians of the union will participate in the exercises.

Spliced.—Madame Wherlen and Henry McGuffin, attaches of Mike Lipman's combination circus, on Sunday evening last were joined in the bonds of matrimony, His Honor, Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny, performing the ceremony.

The name of the colored boy drowned on Sunday morning of the steamer Charley Bowen, lying in the Allegheny, was James H. Rutherford. He ran away from his home in Louisville, Ky., two years ago.

Fined.—W. W. Bradshaw and A. Aaronson, merchants, were fined by the then acting Mayor, yesterday, for sweeping dirt on Wood street.

OUR EARLY TELEGRAMS.

THE WAR IN EUROPE.

Additional News by the Cuba—Steamers Ordered in London for Italy, and large Contracts for Horses with Prussia—Pacific Declaration Requested—Austrian Troops for Maximilian—Protest of American Minister at Vienna—Significant Speech of Napoleon.

NEW YORK, May 22.—It is stated that all the passes in Tyrol were defended by artillery. Steamers were being ordered in London for Italy, and large contracts for horses is said to have been made with Prussia.

The Federal Diet at Frankfort, on the 9th, adopted a resolution requesting Prussia to make a pacific declaration, otherwise the Diet would be compelled to take steps provided in the Federal Constitution. The Prussian representation declared that Prussia was ready to revoke defensive measures if the Diet would also order the disarmament of the other members of the confederation; otherwise Prussia will be compelled to maintain the necessary measures for her own security.

A Vienna dispatch of the 10th says that Austria is reported to have decided upon convening the Holstein Diet should Prussia still regret her proposals for the settlement of the question of the Duchies. A movement for the formation of a volunteer corps continues in several Austrian provinces. The municipality of Prague had received orders to prepare quarters for troops to arrive in that city immediately, and for whom there may be no room in barracks.

Advices from Venetia say: It is expected that the Austrian army in Venetia will be completely equipped and augmented.

The Berlin correspondent of the London Times says that Mr. Motley, the American Minister at Vienna, has announced that he would leave that country if another body of volunteers was despatched to Mexico. A detachment of one thousand men was to have embarked at Trieste on the 10th of May, but there is no announcement of their having done so.

Napoleon made a significant speech at Auxerre, in which he said he detested the treaty of 1815. The Paris Bourse had accepted it as a signal of war. Severe panics had set in. Rents fell two per cent.

THE WAR IN MEXICO.

Victory of the Liberals Over the Imperialists at Mazatlan—Import Duties and Forced Loans Continue—A French Commander Proposes to take French Leave of Absence.

NEW YORK, May 22.—The details of the engagement between the Liberals under Corona and the Imperial Garrison at Mazatlan, Mexico, show that the Liberals gained a brilliant victory. A squad of Americans, who were in Corona's ranks, acted as sharp-shooters during the engagement. Without delaying, Corona immediately attacked another co-operating expedition under Lozela, and completely routed it. He is now master of the position at Livaloa.

The heavy import duties and forced loans still continue. Duties on single cargoes of merchandize from Europe in the month of April have amounted to from one hundred and thirty thousand dollars to one hundred and sixty thousand dollars.

Ortega, the opponent of Juarez, proposes to enter Mexico from California.

A letter of General Brincourt, one of the French commanders, is published, stating that he believes the cause is by no means popular, and that the relations with the United States are threatening. He, therefore, intends taking a leave of absence with no expectation of returning.

FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

Bill Creating the Grade of General—Specie in the Treasury—Fortification Appropriations—Increase of Regular Army.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Washington special dispatches say that the Senate Military Committee have increased the pay and emoluments in the bill creating the grade of General to near $20,000.

The Treasury and Sub-Treasuries contain $80,000,000 in specie.

The amount of appropriations made for fortifications, in the Senate, yesterday, were: $50,000 for a fort near Detroit; $50,000 for a fort at Oswego; $50,000 for forts at the outlets of Lake Champlain; $30,000 for Fort Schuyler; Willet's Point, $50,000; Fort Hamilton, $50,000; Fort Tompkins, $50,000; Sandy Hook, $50,000; Fort Mifflin, $25,000; for platforms for barbette cannon in important harbor defences, $100,000; for the survey of Northern Lakes, $50,000; for the purchase of sites for Sea Coast defenses, $25,000.

Judge Hughes, of Indiana, has been appointed General Agent of the Treasury, in the place of W. C. Mellen.

The House Military Committee are maturing a bill to increase the regular army, in accordance with the views of General Grant.

FROM NEW YORK.

The Great Fire—Firemen Supposed to have Perished—Loss of Wardrobe at the Academy of Music.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Two firemen named Daniel Waters and Welch, are supposed to have perished in the theatre last night. Another, named John Denin, was badly burnt, but escaped with his life. Grace Chapel, the Manhattan Gas Company's works, Long Hall, the dwellings on Fifteenth street and the Hydepheatron were saved. The wardrobes, belonging to the stockholders of the Academy, the Italian Opera, valued at a million dollars, were destroyed. Also, Mr. Grau's, valued at twenty-five thousand dollars, and a great part of Mabrick's, value unknown. Palmer & Co., publishers, of the Opera, lost ten thousand dollars. Several small buildings on Third avenue were destroyed.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY, May 22, 1866.

The financial crisis in England has given rise to serious apprehensions in this country and under the influence of a large export demand, gold suddenly advanced from 130¾ yesterday to 134@135 to-day. Though the Government has about eighty millions of gold under its control, yet, not more than forty millions of that could be sold, and, if last week's operations can be taken as a fair criterion, that amount, would, if thrown on the market, only supply the export demand for about four weeks. It is expected, however, that as soon as the large amount of cotton bills drawn against shipments of cotton at 40 cents here, are covered by immediate remittances, the heavy flow from this country to Europe will cease.

Government bonds remain pretty firm, especially old gold bearing bonds, but there is some desire on the part of small holders of seven Thirties to realize. Mr. P. R. Mertz's New York quotations to-day were as follows: Gold, 134 to 135; 1881's, 108¾; 5-20's, 103¼; 101-10's, 95¾; 7-30's, 102⅝; Bennehoff (oil) 125; Pithole Creek; 3¾; United States, 65; Gregory, gold, 113; Quartz, do., 4¾; Parmalee, 9¼.

In our local stock market, there is but little doing. Railroad stocks may be quoted at 97½ for Fort Wayne; 84 for Cleveland & Pittsburgh; 12 for Allegheny Valley; 4 for Steubenville; and 9¾ for Connellsville. Bank Shares firm but unchanged and quiet. Oil stocks dull and weak. Columbia is quotable at 18 to 18½, and it is certainly one of the best and most reliable stocks of the kind in this market.

—The consolidated-debt scheme is still the upper most topic of financial discussion, the unexpected opposition to it on the part of Mr. Senator Fessenden, which was manifested when the bill came up for consideration in the Senate last week, has awakened interest anew to its various provisions. There is a universal agreement, however, to the main object of the bill, that of bring the debt into one uniform and unvarying single instrument of having it, as now, cut up into so many forms that it is a tax on the mind to remember them. The chief opposition to the measure is on the ground of too low a rate of interest and the exemption of the bonds from all manner of taxation. The exemption clause, it is argued, will, if adopted, raise up a powerful political party, who will plausibly endeavor to convince the people that the nation is being taxed to pay the interest of the wealthy, while the poor man's property is exempt. The objection to the low
